ANNUAL REPORT

2021

from the president & ceo

dear stakeholders, community partners,
colleagues, survivors, funders and friends,

2021 didn't start nor end as we had planned! 2021 continued being a challenging year for all our agencies in the gender-based violence movement. For OAESV, as I am certain for many of you it was still a busy and unpredictable year. The pandemic continued to take a toll, but didn't reduce the needs and the work that needed to happen. In 2021, we experienced a second wave of VOCA funding reduction, staff burnout, high turnover rates, continuous budget adjustments, and solicitations.

OAESV remained hopeful and advocated for VOCA Fix, CARES ACT funding for SV, and increases to our State Rape Crisis Fund. As an organization that truly believes in collaboration, transparency, empowerment, innovation and support, we believed that there has never been a more important time for us (community of practice) to come together, than in 2021, to collaborate, to embrace the voices of survivors and member base agencies in our state. There was no better time than 2021 to re-adjust, realign and re-envision the way that we were going to continue to be survivor centered and meet everyone's needs. We never skipped a beat!

Giving up is not an option, was never an option; we needed to move forward, we needed to be innovative, inclusive, intersectional, anti-oppressive, anti-racist, loud, intentional and visible, and that we did! We tackled every hurdle, went back to the basics and continued being true to our mission. We were focused, grounded, paced, steady; while we amplified the voices of survivors in a transformative, genuine, just and restorative way.

The publication of this 2021 annual report will commemorate a remarkable year of programmatic, advocacy, service, commitment, drive, resiliency, collaboration and innovation. It will give you a snapshot of the passion, excellence, professionalism and ethics of each one of our staff members. It will probably not do their work justice, nor really describe all the amazing work done behind the scenes and that reports can't capture with the limited funds we have. It will show you why it matters to have a sexual assault coalition that is intentional, consistent, mission-driven, collaborative and one that truly cares.

I believe this is worth elevating, showcasing and celebrating. And it truly would not have been possible without you! My sincerest gratitude.

As we move into a new year, a new season, please know that you will continue to play a pivotal role in our sustainability and success. Our commitment to survivors of sexual violence, to our members and state is unwavering. We will continue to advocate, educate, serve and conduct trainings that will interrupt harm and we will continue to fight unapologetically for racial equity, transformative justice, body autonomy, Queer and LGBTQA rights, language justice, and social justice so that we can really restore our equitable/anti-oppressive roots and in the process we will always invite you to join us in the fight, simply because survivors, you and I deserve a much better Ohio to live in and be a part of.

Thank you for not only being an external evaluator/observer, but a doer, a disruptor, a fierce advocate, a champion, catalyst of change, restorer of hope and educator. We are honored that you are part of our community of practice.

There is power and strength in our collectives.
Sincerely,

from the board president

dear OAESV community,

I am grateful for each of you and the ways in which you have continued to show up this past year during an ongoing global pandemic and the trauma of heightened racism and racial disparities. We know that it has been difficult, and we hope you take a moment to celebrate our collective work in Ohio Alliance to End Sexual Violence's 2021 Annual Report.

Although we encountered many challenges, our incredible staff and volunteers continued to fearlessly advocate to ensure survivors had access to services, to provide rape crisis centers and partner agencies across the state with critical and meaningful support for prevention and advocacy work, and to champion more equitable policies at the state and national level.

Our board had several transitions this past year, bringing on new board members and saying goodbye to others. With dedication and care, we celebrated our most successful Shine the Light event featuring nationally-renowned speaker, Tony Porter. We developed better strategies for internal growth and support, and continued working through our strategic plan to ensure fiscal, legal, and ethical oversight of the organization.

To our many partners, volunteers, and donors - thank you. Thank you for your continued support for OAESV as we strive to use an anti-oppression lens to advocate for comprehensive responses and rape crisis services for survivors and to empower communities to prevent sexual violence.

As we reflect on 2021 and move into 2022 with the hope of what a new year brings, may you each take a moment to acknowledge the ways in which you too have contributed to this work. We could not do any of this without you.

Let us end the silence and be reminded that every day is a chance to generate a revolution for the future of our community to bring an end to sexual violence.

our mission

As Ohio's statewide coalition, OAESV uses an anti-oppression lens to advocate for comprehensive responses and rape crisis services for survivors and to empower communities to prevent sexual violence anti-oppression work, systems advocacy, and coordinated responses to survivors

our ongoing commitment

In 2021, we embraced our ongoing commitment to confronting oppression and eliminating sexual violence. The OAESV staff shared their expertise at statewide and national conferences and training events, and were recognized for their achievements and contributions in empowering survivors and confronting oppression. Through collaborative projects at the national, statewide, regional, and local levels, we worked with partners to further our mission and improve the overall capacity to effectively respond to sexual violence. Some of the projects, groups, and events that OAESV staff convened and/or attended include the Ohio Attorney General’s Two Days in May conference, quarterly rape crisis program directors’ meetings, state and national coalition meetings, regional SART meetings, site visits to local programs, community forums for inadequately served communities, and many more.

We also continued to co-chair several statewide committees, comprised of colleagues from various anti-violence organizations.

- Anti-Oppression Committee
- Co-Conspirators in Ending Oppression
- Ohio Men’s Action Network
- Women of Color Caucus
- Men of Color Caucus
- SAABO (Sexual Assault Advisory Board)
- Family Violence Prevention Council
- SVAA Advisory Board
- Ohio Council on Victims of Justice
- DELTA Leadership Team of Human Trafficking Task Force
- Sexual Assault Kit Tracking

putting conversations into practice

a cohort to practice anti-racism

a note from the group

Beginning in 2021, OAESV contracted with Sankofa Circle International to facilitate 20, 2-hour sessions with ten Rape Crisis Center leaders from across Ohio. As leaders of organizations dedicated to anti-oppression work, we are in a unique position to create and maintain anti-oppressive organizations. The purpose of this series was to create a community of practice with fellow leaders to build the skills and resources to assess and enact anti-racism and anti-oppression work within our agencies. Sankofa Circle International brought in amazing faculty members from across the nation to lead these efforts.

We took a deep dive into our current individual attitudes and beliefs, as well as agency policies and practices to critically assess our current alignment with anti-racist endeavors. We worked toward building a community of anti-oppressive practice with other Ohio leaders and are leaving with concrete goals and strategies to realize a more inclusive workplace and culturally humble services.

- Jen Seifert, Survivor Advocacy Outreach Program

“It was wonderful to learn alongside other rape crisis center directors in the state and have the space to visualize together the future of the anti-violence movement through an anti-oppressive lens.”

- Bethany Lewis,
The Nord Center

“This training is definitely worth the time commitment. I learned a lot to help me in my DEI journey to make workplaces more inviting and inclusive. I also learned about myself and my biases.”

public awareness, products, and training resources

providing timely information

At OAESV we believe in the importance of providing timely information to the public as well as to our members, the press, and other stakeholders. We continue to update our website in order to be accessible and responsive to the needs of users. We also create and disseminate fact sheets and newsletters on relevant and timely topics and use social media to share current news, events, and information about sexual violence and services for survivors.

We continue to create resources that can be used by advocates and others who wish to support survivors as well as by prevention educators and members of the community who are working to end sexual violence. We created and published monthly newsletters in 2021 as well as a number of different resources including brochures, reports, manuals, technical assistance guides, regulatory responses, web pages, podcasts, toolkits, press statements and interviews, and more.

annual conference

RESTORING OUR ROOTS: CULTIVATING COMMUNITY. FOSTERING INNOVATION. NOURISHING RELATIONSHIPS.

Our 2021 Conference sought to explore three foundations of sexual violence prevention and intervention – community, innovation, and relationships – as we considered ways to “Restore Our Roots”. It was a testament to the gradual, continual process of restoration. We did some digging, tested the soil, planted some seeds, and did some necessary pruning. We need these trees to be free of the weeds that have hindered their growth for years. As we reflected and honored the work done before us, we also acknowledged past traumas and shortcomings. We know we only can thrive if we are willing to examine our roots and challenge the barriers that have prevented our growth.

increased rape crisis services funding

Amid the tribulations of 2020 and the first half of 2021, we worked tirelessly and advocated heavily and were rewarded with increased rape crisis funding. In April, the Ohio House of Representatives approved an increased budget for the Ohio Rape Crisis Centers line item, taking it from $4.75 million per fiscal year in 2019 to $10 million per fiscal year in 2020 and $7.3 million per fiscal year in 2021.

This sizeable increase was necessary in order to respond to increased demand for services as well as to position Ohio's rape crisis programs to expand services to cover all 88 counties of the state. Under the Line Item, programs that meet the Core Standards are eligible for unrestricted funds. The Line Item's positive impact has been swift and powerful. For instance, many programs were able to extend their services to cover additional counties, increase employment, and create prevention programming.

However, it's important to note that due to VOCA cuts in 2020 and 2021, many programs were still barely able to sustain staff and programming, if at all. The rape crisis funding helped stabilize the effects of VOCA cuts, but in many cases this kept the funding from having its intended purpose of expansion

- Fiscal Year One: $10 Million
- Fiscal Year Two: $7.3 Million
- Biennium Total: $17.3 Million
